Address format

Uruguayan Post recommendations:

Ordering of lines in address from specific to general (from top to bottom).

An address has a maximum of 8 lines and a minimum number of 3 lines. No blank lines to be included.

The order of the lines is as follows:

1. organisation
2. function and unit
3. addressee name
4. street + premises + building + floor/door
5. supplementary data
6. sub-locality
7. postcode + locality + province
8. country (only for international mail)

An address line has a maximum of 40 characters including spaces. There should be one space between words.

Capital letters are recommended for the last 3 lines of the address.

Uruguayan Post prefers fixed-width fonts like Verdana, Lucinda Console, Courier New (10 to 12 points).

The use of punctuation marks are acceptable in the line containing the building & thoroughfare address, and in the line for the district information.

The locality is separated from the postcode by a dash (-), and from the country by a comma (,).

The locality is required unless it is identical to the name of the department.
