Address formats

Recommendations concerning fonts:

- height of characters: between 2 and 7 mm;
- space between address lines: at least 1 mm;
- pitch: between 6 and 12 characters per inch;
- space between characters: at least 0.4 mm (for whole height);
- matrix printer characters are permitted provided they consist of a large number of dots arranged very close together;
- proportionally spaced print is machine-processable.

The postal address must contain a minimum of information for correct sorting and delivery (see example 1).

Other information related to the building, floor, village, apartment, should be placed to the right side of the street name and number. This part of the address is called "rest of address" (see example 2).

Addresses of items addressed to a Post Office Box should have the postal code of the Post office or agency of Correos Chile (see example 3).

If the commune / locality doesn't have a postal code for a block face, the commune postal code should be used (for the whole commune / locality) (see example 4).

Most rural addresses do not have street numbers; these addresses are identified by the company name, the street name but no number (see examples 5 and 6).
