Led by experts and professionals in the field, these events foster the exchange of experiences and provide participants with insights into technical and marketing innovations.

The related presentations are available on the UPU website.

COMPETITION CLASSES

"An international competition class is a cost-effective way for each operator to showcase their philatelic expertise and promote their country's "made in" products worldwide."

Greater global visibility for your know-how!

Open exclusively to WADP members, the competition class travels the world and is exhibited at various major international philatelic shows.
