2023-2025

Serbian Stamps Kaleidoscope 2023 – 2025 presents a vivid mosaic of Serbia's recent philatelic creations. Through a dynamic blend of themes, colors and artistic styles, these stamps reflect country's cultural heritage, contemporary achievements and the evolving narrative of country's national identity. Each issue shown here offers a unique visual fragment, but together they all form a shifting, vibrant kaleidoscope that captures Serbia's spirit in philatelic miniature. Carefully curated, the collection invites viewers to explore how modern Serbian philately bridges tradition and innovation.

ROYAL WOMEN OF THE NEMANJIĆ DYNASTY

Royal women of the Nemanjić dynasty had a significant role in strengthening the political, cultural and spiritual foundations of the medieval Serbian state.

As influential consorts, diplomatic bridges and devoted patrons of monastic life, they contributed to the rise of Serbian power and shaping of its identity. Their legacy lasts through enduring monuments of their patronage and in the centuries-lasting historical remembrance of their influence throughout Serbian history.

NATIONAL TREASURE

The Vinča culture has been defined as the most significant phenomenon of the late Neolithic and Eneolithic, which developed throughout the territory of the central Balkans, and was named after Vinča archeological site. The Lepenski Vir site in the village of Boljetin, on the banks of the Danube, is one of the most significant and well-known early prehistoric sites in Serbia. During the research of the Mesolithic layers dating back to 6200–5900 BC, the remains of planned settlements were found, with the remains of monumental stone sculptures and numerous graves, indicating developed burial rituals.

The first Congress of the Universal Postal Union was held in Bern, from September 15 to October 9, 1874. The Congress was attended by designated representatives of 22 countries, including Serbia, represented by Mladen Ž. Radojković, whose portrait, together with the monument, symbol of the UPU, is shown on the stamp issued on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of the UPU. The philatelic specificity of this issue is the initials signature of the author of the stamp – the engraver’s mark, which honours the historical role of the engraver in the production of postage stamps.
