Code of ethics for Associate members

All Associate members are required to adhere to the following code of ethics:

- a We, as Associate members of the DPG, shall be guided in all our activities by truth, fairness and the highest level of integrity.
- b We shall, at all times, provide quality professional contributions and support in order to ensure maximum effectiveness for all the members' investment of resources.
- c We shall strive to be kept fully informed of the latest techniques, developments and knowledge that pertain to the DPG's activities.
- d We shall, during the course of our activities within the DPG, conduct ourselves in a manner that aims to enhance the public image and growth of the DPG and its activities.
- e We shall not use our membership or official position within the DPG to seek unwarranted financial gains or any other benefits, advantages or privileges for ourselves (including the promotion of proprietary commercial solutions, unless otherwise authorized within the framework of DPG activities), nor use the emblem, name and initials of the UPU for commercial purposes.
- f We pledge to maintain these standards in all our business activities and to work diligently.
- g We therefore accept this code of ethics as an essential condition for continued Associate membership of the DPG.
